

4 Sources for Desserts or Meeting Break Treats

For meeting breaks or casual office gatherings, try these updated takes on classic childhood treats. These desserts can give attendees the energy they need to get through a long day of sessions or lend a festive feel to casual workplace parties.

Milk & Krunchies, which creates grown-up takes on Rice Krispies treats, has just released a new flavor called Old Skool—a low-fat version of the original. Other flavors include peanut buttercup laced with milk chocolate; DJ AM's Toffee Mix (he is a partner); and PB&J Sandwich (made with strawberry jelly and peanut butter). The company delivers for events, and the price per treat ranges from around $3.25 to $3.50. They can also be ordered online and shipped around the U.S.
